

Chris Giovinazzo, C(k)P[®], AIF[®], CPFA[™], ARPC
Managing Director
Accelerate Retirement

Chris Giovinazzo's experience in retirement and investment advising spans over 10 years. For the last five years, he has served as managing director for Accelerate Retirement, helping retirement plan sponsors develop successful retirement plan strategies that make a difference in their lives and the lives of their plan participants. Chris's extensive knowledge of the retirement plan market is well-earned, stemming from his background working for a top retirement plan provider, where he learned recordkeeping and Defined Contribution business from the ground up.

Chris earned his B.S. in Political Science from UCLA, during which time he also gained experience interning as a 401(k) advisor. After graduating, he went on to play minor league baseball for several years before beginning his career in sales and quickly moving on to a role as regional vice president for his company. He gained a reputation among his clients for quick responsiveness, an ability to quickly identify and solve their challenges, and customer-centric efficiency.

Chris's professional achievements have been recognized throughout his career. In 2018 he was recognized as one of NAPA's 100 Top DC Wholesalers. He has been recognized as one of NAPA's "Aces" for three years in a row now, establishing his place as a heavy-hitter in the retirement advising sector.

Chris lives in Laguna Niguel with his wife Ashley, their children Connor and Owen, and their dog Carson. He loves spending time with his family and enjoys playing golf, going to the beach, exercising, and skiing.
